

A NOTE TO WAKEFIELD/BROOKFIELD COMMUNITIES FROM MISS DIANE, GAFNEY LIBRARY'S CHILDREN'S LIBRARIAN

To all,

After lengthy consideration, I have decided to retire from my position as Children's Librarian at the Gafney Library at the end of this year, 12/31/20. I am excited to begin a new chapter in my life.

I am grateful for having the opportunity to work along with the Gafney staff and Board, the many Friends of the Wakefield Libraries, the members of the different departments of the Town of Wakefield, the local businesses, Paul School, Spaulding High School, Brookfield-related schools, and private school staff and administration, the local day cares, the homeschooling organizations, and others that I have come in contact with in the last 17 years.

And very importantly, I am grateful for being able to serve the kids and adults in the Wakefield and Brookfield communities. While I am very excited with my new adventure, I am, also, sad to be leaving a job that I have enjoyed for so many years. I am even more sad because I will not be seeing all of you like I have for so long. I have enjoyed sharing books with you, laughing with you, building Legos with you, and seeing so many of you kids and teens grow.

Miss Susan will be managing the Gafney Youth Library and will continue to connect you with great books, movies, and fun programming.

Happy Reading!!

Miss Diane
